MASTER WORLD CLASS TRAINING

INTRODUCTION

Emotional Excellence can be learned. Emotional can be controlled or else they control us. Self-awareness or knowing oneself is a good way to learn about EQ. Before the commencement of the program, you will get a chance to find out your personality style using the IPI Personality Profiling Assessment and assess your Emotional Excellence Score using an instrument called Yong EQ Inventory. These tools, used by thousands of participants all over the world, have been found to be insightful and powerful in assessing your own personality and EQ level. The program will teach you to know more about your strengths and weaknesses and help you to manage your own emotions; learn more about other people's personalities and their emotional make up. You will learn how to be comfortable with your own emotions, break through your own limitations, be more creative, work more productively with team members and live in a more holistic and enriching manner.

By learning how to use the creative right brain - the side dealing with emotions, creativity and artistic endeavors, it will help you to change the way you see life situations, your perceptions of what is going on around you, improve your social awareness and manage your relationships with others in a more positive fashion. You will also learn a powerful technique to deal with life's stresses and begin to live your life with more meaning and joy in short you begin to experience the benefits of being emotionally excellent. It will give you and your organization a new improved burst of life.

Over the years, many organizations and their members have gone through this training program and experienced numerous benefits. Many lives have been changed by this experience. Many stories have been reported, where real healing has occurred, resulting in healthier and more positive relationships with bosses, peers, friends and family members. At the end of the day, many people have regained control over their lives and also found a balance in their work-life and this is possible when leaders with emotional excellence are leading the heart of a high EQ organization.
